AMERICA WAKE UP, No. 124

COMMUNISM IN THE UNITED NATIONS

Same text as AMERICA WAKE UP, No.12, with the following change at the beginning of page 1.

MRS. SCHLAFLY: The ninth Consecutive Communist was recently appointed to the number-two position in the United Nations. On August 16, 1965 UN Secretary General U Thant appointed Soviet diplomat Aleksei Nesterenko as Secretary of Political and Security Council Affairs. He succeeds the following men, all of whom were Communists: Arkady Sobolev, Constantin E. Zinchenko, Ilya S. Tchernychev, Dragoslav Protitch, Anatoly Dobrynin, Georgy Petrovitch Arkadev, Eugeny Kiselev, and Vladimir P. Suslov. This arrangement .....

The following is added in the middle of page 6:

For more than two years, the Soviet Union has refused to pay even its small share of UN dues and assessments. During all that time, the American position has been that, if the Soviets did not pay their debts, we would invoke Article 19 of the UN Charter which says that any nation which does not pay its debts must lose its vote. In August 1965, UN Ambassador Arthur Goldberg's first major assignment was to announce that the United States has agreed to allow the Soviets to violate the Charter and continue to vote in the UN without paying its bills to the UN.
